

Graduate profile

Who is the Livingston Elementary School graduate?

1. They perceive learning as a never-ending process that is part of everyday life even outside of school.
2. They treat a mistake as an opportunity.
3. Are able to work with information and think in context.
4. Are able to communicate in English.
5. They know the value of money - is financially literate.
6. Are able to manage and organize themselves, at the same time are able to work as a team and cooperate.
7. They know themselves - which is also thanks to the constructive feedback they receive and give.
8. Respect themselves and others - they are aware of the importance of empathy in life and are constantly developing it.
9. They know they are not alone in the world and that they need others to be content and to have a full life.
10. They know what is polite and how to act that way.
11. Achieve the optimum of their potential within their capabilities, skills and opportunities.
12. They believe in themselves.

By deciding to send their children to Livingston, the parents agree to work with the school towards the aforementioned objectives as well as take the responsibility for it.

